Contextualisation

In a globalised world, where we need to move across frontiers not only for pleasure but also for work, English is a key tool to improving our career prospects. In addition, English is the language of most scientific publications. In a context of an increasingly larger European Union, we need English as a tool to communicate with people from different countries and to grow as professionals. This subject seeks to provide students with a basic grounding in English that will allow them to read and understand specialised publications in English, giving a comprehensive overview of the language, not only from a grammatical point of view but also including a real-life use of it. Students need to be competent not only in writing but also- and even more importantly- orally. That is why this subject will include a considerable amount of conversation and debate in class in which students are supposed to participate actively. The course will go through various aspects of grammar, use of English, oral and written skills. Great attention will be paid to technical vocabulary, essential to understanding specialised publications, in the field of electronics.

Requirements

This course will be conducted exclusively in English. It is therefore essential that the students who enrol already have an intermediate level of English (as equivalent to a B1 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages - CEFR). The materials used in this course have been selected and designed according to the parameters described for the B2 level (CEFR). Thus, a pass in this course certifies the student's language proficiency level required by the UIB in order to obtain the Undergraduate Degree.

Essential requirements

According to the rules of the UIB, in order to obtain a Bachelor Degree students need to prove at the end of their studies a level of competence in English equivalent to a B2 level established in the Common European Framework Reference for Languages (CEFR), as it has been established in the Degree's requirements of their respective curricula. In order to attain this knowledge, students must pass the specific English language course of their Degree. Students may also prove their English skills by means of:

- Presenting a valid certificate or recognized degree by the UIB, attesting the achievement of a minimum level of English equivalent to B2 established in the Common European Framework Reference for Languages (CEFR). Please, see the following link for further information: http://estudis.uib.es/es/grau/coneix_idioma/Conocimiento-de-idioma-extranjero-en-los-estudios.cid215459
- Successfully pass the annual English test organised at the UIB. Please, see the following link for further information: http://estudis.uib.es/es/grau/coneix_idioma/Conocimiento-de-idioma-extranjero-en-los-estudios.cid215457
- Enrolling and successfully completing a number of English taught subjects in their Degree or in an Exchange Programme (18 credits). For further information, please see: http://estudis.uib.es/es/grau/coneix_idioma/

Recommendable

IMPORTANT: Students are required to have a minimum of B1 level in English prior to the beginning of the course. The student who does not have the B1 level of English proficiency (level that students must have successfully reached at the end of their secondary studies, and required to pass the University Entrance examination) must acquire this level before the semester starts. In order to do so, a list of resources for self-learning is provided in the References section of this teaching guide. In addition, this University is equipped with a Continuous Language Learning Classroom (C13), in Guillem Cifre, at the disposal of students. For more information about this Section and the resources available for students, please consult the following link: http://rrhh.uib.es/digitalAssets/137/137294_aulaangl.pdf. The University of the Balearic Islands also provides Induction Courses for False Beginners (Cursos Cero) at the beginning of the academic year.

Content

The course content will be divided into grammatical language consolidation (language use and general vocabulary) and reading, listening and speaking practice which will allow students to practise grammatical structures within the specific context of engineering.

Theme content

1.. Grammatical content

Explanations of grammatical structures (this list is only a guide - it may change according to the specific needs of the group):

1. Revision of present, past and future time
2. Reported speech
3. Passives/causative verbs
4. Relative clauses
5. Clauses of purpose and result
6. Modals
7. Conditionals
8. Linking words and phrases

2.. Vocabulary

Worksheets on specific vocabulary in the electronics field

3.. Reading practice

Specific reading practice

4.. Listening

Listening practice

5.. Speaking

Speaking practice will also include essential guidelines and practice for giving presentations and participating in debates

Teaching methodology

The different skills (speaking, listening, reading and writing) will be covered in an integrated manner in order to present grammar and vocabulary in the context of the subject under study. At the beginning of the semester a schedule of the subject will be made available to students through the UIBdigital platform. The schedule will at least include the dates when the continuous assessment tests will be conducted (writing/orals) and the hand-in dates for the assignments (if applicable). In addition, the lecturer will inform students as to whether the subject work plan will be carried out through the schedule or through another way included in the Campus Extens platform.

IMPORTANT - subject pass mark

The student must obtain a minimum score of 6 out of 10 in the final "Use of English" examination (comprising different papers: Grammar in Context, Vocabulary in Context, Listening and Reading comprehension) in order to successfully pass this subject. In those cases where the mathematical average is higher than 5, and the final examination scores lower than a 6, the student will have 4.5 in his or her marks record. The percentages applied to each part are listed below.

If a student fails to show up on the date and time established for any of these papers, they will receive a 0 (zero) grade. Failure to take an official exam (when applicable) will result in a "No Presentado" grade. Under no circumstances will the dates and times of the official exams be altered, with the only exception of those cases contemplated by the University of the Balearic Islands "Reglament Acadèmic" (when two exams on the same day coincide with a time difference of under three hours). Students will not be allowed into the room once the exam / session has already started. Mobilephones and other electronic devices are not allowed in the room. Plagiarism or misdemeanour behaviour (e.g. cheating) during these exams / sessions, will automatically qualify the student's assessment with a "Suspendo" (Grade 0).

ELECTRONIC DEVICES: The use of cell phones and other electronic devices is not permitted in the classroom, unless specified by the teacher. Laptops will be only accepted if they are necessary for the tasks related with course activities. Electronic devices (including laptops or mobile phones) are NOT allowed in the classroom during test practice, or examinations, except when directly specified by the teacher.
