Contextualisation

The aim of the course is to make students familiar with the concepts, principles, theories and methodologies of tourism law applied to contracts. The explanations and materials seek to provide our graduates the know-how and basic tools for contracting in a tourism industry environment, always from a legal perspective. The most important and frequent contracts are studied, namely: air transport, accommodation, allotment and tour operation, insurance, package holidays. This course takes place during the second semester of the second year.
